Report of the Activity "Webinar on From Kitchen Waste to Organic Fertilizer: The Miracles of the Little Known Earthworms" Conducted on

Oct. 31, 2021.

1. Title of Activity (Webinar): "From Kitchen Waste to Organic Fertilizer: The Miracles of the Little-Known Earthworms".
2. Objectives of the activity: The objective of organizing this webinar is to familiarize students with the methods of vermicomposting for converting kitchen wastes to organic fertilizers.
3. Anticipated Outcomes: The expected outcome of organizing this webinar was to encourage students to develop a small-scale vermicomposting unit at their homes and convert all the organic wastes generated at their kitchens into organic fertilizers.
4. Details of Resource Persons if any: Dr. Naseer Hussain is Ph.D in Botany (environmental Technology) from Pondicherry University and Postdoctoral from McGill University, Department of natural Resources Sciences, Montreal, Canada. Executed a major research project to develop best management practices for enhanced crop nutrient use efficiency and done a lot of research on vermicomposting technology.
5. List of Participants to be attached: Nearly 57 students
6. Your Assessment on the realization of the anticipated Outcomes: The webinar organized on the theme "From Kitchen Waste to Organic Fertilizer: The Miracles of the Little-Known Earthworms" by the department of Botany introduced students with the concept of vermicomposting in which earthworms are used for transforming decomposable wastes to organic fertilizers. This is first of its kind webinar at this college in which students were provided with a thorough information related to setting up vermicomposting units at kitchen, their handling, and precautions involved. This webinar encouraged students to start vermicomposting units at their homes for managing most of the organic wastes generated thereby reducing the loads of wastes being transported to the landfills.

Workshop on MOOC continues at GCW Parade

Early Times Report
JAMMU, Jan 15: The five days workshop on MOOCs (Massive Open Online Courses) under the Ministry of Open Online Courses (MOOC) under the Ministry of Education, Government of Jammu, is continuing at Govt. College for Women, Parade Ground, Jammu for the second day.

Principal Prof. (Dr.) Chander Shekhar while inaugurating the workshop welcomed the participants and stressed upon the importance of e-learning in the contemporary educational paradigm.

Dr. J.N. Bhatia, Head & Associate Professor, Department of Education, Central University of Jammu was the resource person on day one of the workshop. He apprised the participants about the various Digital Initiatives of GOJ in Higher Education.

Prof. Bhatia encouraged the participants to build OPEN content which is usable by all and withdrawal or non-fulfillment of copyright act and remuneration provisions. During the session he highlighted the various Open Educational Resources (OER) that could be adopted in designing the courses in order to make it interesting and easy for students to comprehend.

All the members of the day were highly interactive as all the queries of 45 enthusiastic participants from different colleges of J&K were satisfactorily solved by the resource persons. He concluded his session with the promise that in the upcoming sessions each participant will be enabled to open their accounts on various social media sites for an effective learning experience.

WEBINAR DAY 1 (24.06.2020)

Under the aegis of IQAC cell, Govt. College for Women, Parade Ground, Jammu, organized a five day national webinar, faculty development Program on "Development of e-content avoiding Plagiarism" from 24th to 28th June, 2020. Around 218 participants from across the country and abroad registered for the webinar. On 24th June, the webinar link was provided to the participants and more than 182 participants logged in from their respective ends. At 11.30am, Dr Preeti Dubey organizing secretary of webinar, greeted all with a warm welcome and oriented the participants towards the content and conduct of the webinar on the selected digital platform, "Gotomeetings". Thereafter, she handed over the forum to Mr.S.K.Dhar, Convenor, IQAC for the introductory speech. He extended a warm welcome to Dr S. P Saraswat, Principal of the College and chief patron, esteemed resource person for the day Dr Ashok Sharma, Associate Professor, School of Computer Engineering, Lovely Professional University, Punjab and the participants. He highlighted the need for adoption of ' neo-normals' in teaching and learning as a response to the testing times caused by COVID-19 pandemic.

-This was followed by the welcome address by Dr S.P. Saraswat, principal of college. Dr S. P. Saraswat extended his greetings to the participants and expressed his pleasure at the overwhelming response that the webinar received from the participants. He introduced Dr Ashok Sharma, the resource person of the day to the participants and appreciated his valued presence.

He also apprised the participants of the other resource persons and domain experts who would be joining the webinar in the subsequent days. Further, he spoke about the ethical aspects pertaining to plagiarism which the faculty should get acquainted with and sensitized to while uploading e-content respectively.

The technical session was then taken over by Dr Ashok Sharma who discussed at length the introduction to e-content development tools. His presentation revolved around the subtopics such as creating site in MoodleCloud, designing the site, adding the courses in site, adding contents like audio/video/PPT etc., adding participants, giving permission to participants, adding examination in site, creating MCQ/short answer/quizzes, conducting online task, evaluating the task and uploading marks and data analytics in assessment and finally concluded his session on

REPORT

ONE- DAY WORKSHOP ON START UPS AND INCUBATION

Govt. College for Women Parade Ground Jammu, organized one day workshop on "Startup and Incubation" In collaboration with KPMG( A professional service company and one of the big four auditors), on 23rd April 2019, under the aegis of Internal Quality Assurance Cell( IQAC) of college, in which students and faculty from different colleges of the city participated. The aim of this workshop was to motivate and inspire the young students to become self reliant using their innovative skills.

On the occasion, the Chief Guest, the commissioner secretary, Higher Education, Talat Parvez Rohella presented his reviews regarding Startups and termed it as 'need of the hour'. He spoke about the opportunities available in the National/ International market and urged that the workshop be taken to the next higher level to make headway In translating brilliant ideas into Startups at micro, mini and mega levels. He also made the youth aware of the scope of Startups in J & K in the areas of Agriculture, Sericulture, Floriculture, Livestock and Fisheries, Horticulture and Tourism. He also highlighted the emerging trends in the market- from mechanization to digitization and stressed on the need for development of linguistic skills to complement innovative ideas.

The session began with welcome address by Prof. (Dr.) Hemla Aggarwal, Principal of College. She emphasized on the need for Startup ventures and Entrepreneurship programmes to run along with the regular curriculum in educational institutions for strengthening the youth to face economic challenges of the coming times.

Thereafter, in his deliberation, resource person of the day, Mr. Abhishek Kishore Gupta informed that India is ranked as world's third country to initiate the " Startup & Incubation Ecosystem" . He also embarked upon the three essentials to initiate a Startup programme, Seed( Idea) , Protective environment to convert seed into the incubation and ensuring validity of idea in capitalized market. He also shared the progress made by India as a trend setter globally in the adoption and development of innovative technologies like the “Practo” app initially designed in India to find a doctor for consultation anywhere and at any time and also earned global acclaim. He also mentioned about the Lithium batteries developed by ISRO, used for satellites and which was later taken over by Tata manufacturing for use in E- Vehicles.

In the second session, Dr. Sheikh Fayaz, JKEDI interacted with the students and faculty of different colleges. He spoke about the dependence of modernization and economical and technological inequalities on two factors- Geographical Luck and Pro- innovative culture of a country. He emphasized on the enhancement of critical and innovative thinking and conversion of knowledge into action through the mantra of 4C- Critical thinking, Creativity, Collaboration and Communication.

Mr. Rayees Manzoor( JKEDI), in the third session, spoke about the various challenges of Entrepreneurship that is existent in J & K like lack of awareness, lack of coordination, guidance and support. He also enlightened the audience on the funding schemes being implemented in J &K and the role played by JKEDI.

The session concluded with the budding entrepreneurs of J & K sharing their experiences with the audience. The budding entrepreneurs, Pavit Kaur, Professional Dancer & Trainer; Anchal Khanna, Industrialist; Arti Mahajan Dhingra, Owner of Shape and Style; Munishwer Soodan, Owner at Gadget India; Swastik Gupta, were present in the event.

The formal vote of thanks was presented by Dr. Preeti Dubey, Organizing Secretary of the event.

REPORT ON 3- DAY WORKSHOP ON RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

3- day workshop on research methodology was organized by Govt. College for Women, Parade Ground Jammu, an Autonomous college with CPE status by DGC, from 30th January 2018 to 1st February 2018. Workshop was inaugurated by Chief Guest Dr. Asgar Hassan Samoon, Principal Secretary to Govt. Higher Education, J&K. Guest of Honour, Dr. Zahoor Ahmed Chait, Director Colleges, Higher Education, J&K was also present on the occasion. Welcome address was given by Dr. Hemla Aggarwal, Principal of the college. She said that Dr. Samoon, a revered personality has always shown great interest in research activities & encourage teaching faculty of college to involve in research activities which will give them insight to plan their lectures in a better way for the students. She also stressed upon the significance of Research in today's education system as it helps teachers to develop the requisite knowledge and skills to become effective classroom leaders capable of implementing the national reforming Higher education by developing scientific temperament in teachers as well as in students. Dr. Samoon, Principal Secretary too in his address stressed upon the teaching faculty to work hard and evolve a smart work culture for the betterment of student community.

The first session began with the lecture of Prof. Reicha Tanevar, Former Director, Women studies Research Centre, University of Kurukshetra. She spoke on "Feminist Research Methodology". She said that Feminist Research is exclusively concerned about various issues and challenges that the women are facing in male stream world. The objective of such research is to bring a catalytic change in society that would lead all of us to a new world of Gender equality. She also stressed upon the need to Reject Traditional Research methods based on assumptions of powerful mainstream at the expense of Women's dignity and recognition. The need of hour is to reconstruct domain of convenient research, where we see gender in new context with aim for positive social change. She compiled her Lecture briefing the participants about methods one should follow while doing research, such as, maintaining diaries, strong will power, consistency in work, study of History (Review of literature), infield work identification and understanding of facts in depth, to be unbiased, to set ideology, use tape record & camera etc.

Second Session started with the Lecture of Dr. Supran Kumar Sharma, Associate Professor, School Of Business, SMVDU, who spoke on the topic "Why Should I care About Research"? He told participants that everyone should involve in research if they have opted teaching as their profession because it will help them to keep themselves abreast with the contemporary world and keep their mental ability sharp. He advised the participants to be very wise in selecting their topic which should preferably be based on broad area. One should be very sincere while reviewing the literature because it consists of critical reading, evaluating and organising existing literature on the topic to assess the state of knowledge in the area. He also told research is not just about the collection of data though data collection is important, but it is simply part of a wider process - the research process. He further discussed 8 steps followed in research process which included selection of topic, reviewing the literature, developing your theoretical and conceptual frameworks, clarifying your research question, developing a research design, collecting data, analysing data, and drawing conclusions. He concluded his lecture by telling participants to relate their work to the research process which will allow them to develop & answer your research questions in a logical & systematic manner.

Third session of the day began with the lecture by Prof. Pamela Shingla, Department of Social work, Delhi University. She deliberated on the topic "Ethics & Management of Research". She started her lecture by giving some effective tips to the participants about how one should manage their research. She said two types of communication were significant to manage a good research - a. Communication between a scholar & guide, b. Communication with the people in the field which can help the scholar to collect data. For research, patience, will power, determination, consistency is a must for scholar to make research easy scholar should learn to manage papers rooster, files & fee slips till they face their viva-verse. She also inform the participants that the ideal thesis consist of 252 to 300 pages inclusive of Title cover, Index, Chapters, Page of Abbreviations used and Bibliography. She told them never to overlap their contents which will make their thesis sub stranded. One should also avoid too much of review of literature in methodology. She personally felt that every chapter should talk about 4-5 objectives it would discussed and the research should be objective centric. One should extensively use an operational definition in research study and should frame spontaneous questionnaires to create a story of data. For field work she advised that the research scholar should know well the local dialectic of the area where he/she has gone for collection of data. They should show keen interest in the lives of people on which their research project is and engage them in discussion to fetch information. For effective communication and true findings one should understand the experiences of target groups and this is only possible if you listen them and understand the challenges they face. These methods will surely not only make their research easy but even more commendable.

First session of the second day of workshop began with the lecture of Prof. Nilofar Khan, from Kashmir University who spoke on "Primary/Secondary data collection (Tools & Techniques)". She said that the task of data collection begins after a research problem has been defined and research design /plan chalked out. She defined Primary data as those which are collected a fresh and for the first time and thus happen to be original in character whereas Secondary Data have been collected by someone else and have already been passed through the statistical process. There are several tools & techniques with which a scholar can collect primary data with help of Surveys, questionnaires, interviews etc. with the respondent, reading of novels in case of literature or observations and direct communications with respondent. Whereas the method of collecting secondary data was easy as they have already been collected and analyzed by someone else. It may either be published or unpublished data. Researcher must be very careful in using secondary data, because the data available may sometimes be unsuitable. She also deliberated on advantages & disadvantages of research methodology of field work. She informed the participants about various observations one can be involved with while carrying out research.

The second session on 31st January started with the lecture of Dr. Rajinder Preshin, Associate professor, Extension Education SKAUST. The topic of his lecture was "Research Design". He started his lecture by talking about the goals of research which are exploratory, descriptive & explanatory in nature. Exploratory goal deals with how & why questions. This first step makes scholar familiar with the basic sets and concerns about the work of research. It further creates a general mental picture of conditions generate new ideas, conjectures, or hypothesis & determine the feasibility of conducting research, develop techniques for measuring and locating future data. Descriptive research goal provides a detailed, highly accurate picture of the research area. It locates new data that contradicts past data. He said that the descriptive research aims at making of a report on the context of a situation whereas explanatory goal of research deals with the questions, tests the predictions, elaborates observations, enriches a theory by explaining it logically. He concluded by saying that Basic Research is a fundamental knowledge about the social world. It focuses on refuting or supporting theories that explain how the social world operates. It is the source of most new scientific ideas and ways of thinking about the world. On the other hand Applied Research is used to solve specific problems or help practitioners to accomplish tasks.

Post session lunch on second day started with the lecture of Mr. Arvind Kumar, Assistant Professor, Dr. K R Narayanan Centre for Dalit and Minorities Studies Jamia Millia, Delhi. His discussion was on the topic reliability & validity of measurement and data. He started his lecture with the Traditional historians who held that there could be no history without an archive. But it is difficult to write a history of prejudice where the evidence that identifies or signifies its everyday forms and discriminatory behavior is scraggy and ambiguous. Studies have shown that 'Biradari' is undisputedly present in Muslim society across India, though Islam does not profess caste, race & class. He concluded his lecture by saying that in Delhi these Biradaries in Muslim communities were set based on ideological strata rather than Islam which really needs to be changed.

Fourth session of the day started with the lecture on research methodology in science by Prof. S.K. Khosa, from Central University, Jammu. He defined research as means to find answers to the questions. Through research, new and original information about the world we live in, are obtained. Research is scientific and systematic search for truth about specific topic. Reviewing literature is important to understand to understand how others have approached or dealt with the problem. Researcher should collect data in an organized and controlled manner so as to arrive at valid decisions by analyzing data to the problem so that one could reach to appropriate conclusion. Proper planning is required to design research program and it should be highly ethical in its standards. He also informed participants about research methodology in science for e.g. adequate analysis for decision that a researcher needs, he should be clear with the findings he should have a justified conclusion and last but not the least his experience should be reflected in his dissertation.

The first session on the last day of the workshop, 1st February 2018, started with a lecture on "preparing of proposals" by Prof. Lokesh Verma, from Central University, Jammu. He said research proposal is generally divided in to two sections - (A) Introductory section (B) Method section. In the introductory Section, he discussed the different aspects of research i.e. Title of the research proposal, Statement of the problem, Review of related literature, Area of research, Objectives of research study, Hypotheses or questions underlying the study, Significance of study, Delimitations of the area under study. In Method Section he discussed about various aspects of methods involved in research such as Population and sample, Tools, Research Method, Analytical Procedure, Time Schedule, Budget and References.

Prof. Munish Sharma from SKAUST was the resource person for the second session after the tea break. He made the participants familiar with the analysis & parametric/non-parametric data by SPSS. He also talked about detailed framing of Hypothesis & different statistical test to be applied for testing the significance & co-relation of variables.

Last session was conducted by Prof. Vijay Shivgotra, Department of Statistics, University of Jammu. He talked about collection, representation, analysis and interpretation of data.

The chief guest of valedictory function was Director Colleges Dr. Zahoor Ahmed Chan. Dr. Geetanjali.A. Rane was the guest of honour. In this session a brief report of the workshop was presented, feedback was taken from the participants and certificates were distributed to the participants by the chief guest.

A Report on One Day Workshop on Intellectual Property Rights

A one day workshop on Intellectual Property Rights was organized in the College on 23rd April 2018 on the occasion of the International Book Copyrights Day. The Workshop started with the lightening of the lamp followed by a welcome address by the Principal Prof. (Dr.) Hemla Aggarwal. She welcomed the participants and the resource persons Mr. Vikram Sahi (Scientist, University of Jammu), Ms. Garima Sahney (State Patent Officer) and Ms. Malu Sharma, Sub- Editor, State Times. She emphasized on the relevance of patents rights and the importance of being aware of its laws.

In her welcome address Dr. Hemla Aggarwal highlighted the need of spreading Mass Literacy in the area of IPR, so that society at large can reap the benefits of innovations. She further said that knowledge about IPR strengthens our rich heritage, and ancient wisdom with statutory protection.

In the first session Mr. Vikram Sahi, who handles the plagiarism detection of thesis submitted in the University of Jammu, was the resource person. He talked about Plagiarism and the need to keep our work plagiarism free. He introduced the various plagiarism Detection Tools. He laid emphasis on the use of these tools. He also informed that the University of Jammu uses the UGC recommended URKUND plagiarism detection tool. Emphasis was also laid on how stringently UGC was taking action on plagiarism.

In the second session Ms. Garima Sahni, who is the State Patent Officer and also an associate Partner in a Noida based law firm SaiKrishna & Associates practices patent prosecution and analytics. She explained the underlying difference between Copyright, Trademark and Patent. The process of filling a copyright or a patent was also emphasized upon.

Session three continued after a short lunch break. In this session, a panel discussion on IPR was held in presence of a representative from the State Times, Ms. Malu Sharma, Sub-Editor. She spoke on the rules and regulations governing the IPR. It was followed by an interactive session wherein the participants asked questions and had their doubts cleared. The workshop concluded with a vote of thanks by Dr. Sonia Kahjuria, Associate Professor, Department of English.

Report of the Activity 'Investors Awareness Programme' conducted on 16th March, 2018

Department of Commerce, Government College for Women, Parade Ground, Jammu organized an Investors Awareness Programme in collaboration with Securities and Exchange Board of India on 16th March, 2018 under the leadership of Prof. Suman Gupta (HOD Commerce). The experts who shared their views with B.com students were Sh. Mohan Lal Saroj, Assistant General Manager (SEBI) and Sh. Rajesh Oswal, Office Incharge, National Stock Exchange.

Objectives of the Activity

The main objective of this programme is to impart amongst students money skills and inculcate financial discipline in their day to day life.

Anticipated Outcomes

The programme was organized with belief that the objective of investor protection can be proactively achieved by financially educating and empowering the public.

Details of the Resource Person

Sh. Mohan Lal Saroj, Assistant General Manager (SEBI) and Sh. Rajesh Oswal, Office Incharge, National Stock Exchange.

The resource persons conducted the awareness programme by covering various topics like rules and regulations under SEBI Act, power conferred under SEBI Act, working in securities market and the various initiatives taken by SEBI and Exchanges for empowering investors.

Later the lounge was thrown open for active discussion and the queries were addressed to the satisfaction of the students by the resource persons.
